Dynamite Blast Wrecked Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board said today that a dynamite blast near the seat of a heavily-insured passenger caused a plane crash killing 34 persons at Bolivia, Jan. 6.

The report made no attempt to fix the blame for the explosion.

A-WASTE DUMPING OFF B.C. CLAIMED

OTTAWA (CP)—The government was asked today to give assurances that the United States will not be permitted to dump atomic wastes in Canadian coastal waters.

Trade Minister Churchill informed Hazen Argue, CCF House leader, that he would look into the matter.

Mr. Argue said a Boston firm licensed by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission to dump waste in the ocean is operating a plant at Nanaimo, B.C., which manufactures containers for waste disposal.

Nurses Flown To Help Polio Fight In Cariboo

VANCOUVER (CP)—An RCAF Dakota today brought the third polio patient from Prince George in the last 24 hours.

RCAF spokesmen said they did not know the identity of the latest patient.

Meanwhile, Vancouver General Hospital reports Mrs. Margaret Westergaard, 30, and Margaret Morrissey, 12, are in satisfactory condition. They were flown to Vancouver Thursday.

A Vancouver nurse was flown to Prince George Thursday to assist in the fight against polio, and another was expected to be flown north today. The Registered Nurses' Association was trying to find at least two more nurses.

The Cariboo health district, centered around Prince George, has been the hardest hit area this year in B.C., with 37 cases and five deaths reported to date.

The electrical system of one of the iron lungs used in Friday night's mercy flight broke down just as the aircraft took off from Prince George. Two doctors, a nurse and an attendant had to operate a hand pump during the two-hour and 25-minute flight to keep one of the patients alive.

HERE'S WHERE "OUNCE OF PREVENTION" COUNTS

"I didn't even feel it," chirps Fred Collins, Courier reporter, as port public health nurse Mariene Penny administers the first in a series of three Salk anti-polio shots. The shots are being offered to Kelowna residents at the South Okanagan Health Unit each afternoon from 4 to 4:30, with the exception of Saturday. Fred will be back in four weeks for his second shot and some seven to 12 months after the second for his third. (Courier staff photo)

RCAF Planes Join Fight As Forest Fires Increase

One New Fire Discovered In Kelowna Area

Lightning, which accompanied an extremely light rainfall Wednesday, is believed responsible for the newest fire in the Kelowna ranger district.

The blaze, on a ridge between Pearson Creek and the West Kettle River, broke early Thursday afternoon.

Six men were immediately dispatched to the fireside and kept the blaze from spreading overnight. Ten new men were flown in by helicopter this morning.

The fire, described by ranger Bert Hewlett as "small," is reported under control.

The new blaze brings to six the number of fires in the Kelowna area. Two of these are under observation, including one at Westbank.

Twenty-four men — 11 fewer than Thursday's count — and a bulldozer, remain at the scene of the Scotty Creek fire.

The Gallagher's Canyon blaze, which claimed the life of a young Edmonton pilot last Friday, has two men fighting it—a reduction of two from Thursday's total.

Three men remain at a fire five miles east of Kelowna municipal airport. There had been nine on this blaze Tuesday.

HUMIDITY SAME
The relative humidity remained stationary at 27 and spokesmen predicted it would remain near constant with more "dry and hot weather still to come."

Forest Service officials said the new fire might have been detected earlier had it not been for the heavy haze which blanketed the area Thursday morning. Cause of the haze has been attributed to "changes in atmospheric conditions."

SPACE CAPSULE TEST GOES KAPUT

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An attempt to test an unmanned Project Mercury space capsule was wrecked today, apparently by an explosion in the Atlas booster rocket.

The capsule and the rocket assembly were thought to have sunk in the Atlantic off Cape Canaveral.

The Atlas was to rocket the one-ton capsule 110 miles into space and 1,500 miles downrange to check on its ability to withstand a plunge back through the earth's atmosphere.

Regatta hats provide a unique way in publicizing Kelowna's annual water splash, but for some unexplained reason, fewer people are wearing them this year. Trade board secretary-manager Fred Heatley (centre) and regatta office workers Helen Ahrens and Donna Lucas pose for this

Three Children "Freed" After 11 Years Indoors

TECUMSEH, Ont. (CP)—Three children kept indoors by their mother for 11 years today entered into a strange new world.

Gordon Dickerson, 15, stepped into daylight Thursday while his mother, Mrs. Shirley Leach, 38, was at a dentist's office. The boy went to a neighbor's home and told about himself and his two sisters. The neighbor phoned police who took the children to hospital.

Hospital officials said all three, Connie, 16, Glenda, 13, and Gordon were alert but short in stature.

They said the children appeared to be well-taught. They could read and said they watched television.

Connie, who at first told officials she had been born in 1942 but later said she knew she was born in 1944, was asked whether she liked her new friends at nearby Windsor's Grace Hospital.

"Very much," she replied. "But I will miss my mother."

Mrs. Leach told police of moving to Windsor from Detroit in 1950 with her six children, all by Mrs. Leach's first marriage to David Dickerson in Detroit. The couple divorced and Mrs. Leach remarried.

She said the family had difficulty in finding a home, but found a flat in which three children were acceptable. They moved in after telling the landlady she had only three. The three other children, Donna, 22, Carol, 20, and Veronica, 12, all led normal lives with outside contacts, but never mentioned to their neighbors the family secret.

MOVED AT NIGHT
They remained in the house until 1953 and were slipped by night to the family's present home in Tecumseh, a suburb of Windsor.

Police said the children were allowed full freedom of the house and slept in a single bed on a top-floor landing of the two-story frame house.

PARENTS RELIEVED
Const. Gus Newby of the provincial police said the mother and father, Donald, an interior decorator and painter, appeared relieved when the children were found. He said the mother said the confinement had been on her mind for some time but she did not know what to do about it.

He said the children smiled when they saw him.

"They were just glad to see someone different," he said. "All they wanted to talk. The only thing that was lacking was good ventilation. It was pretty stuffy up there. It was 90 degrees outside. The rooms were clean, just messed the way children would mess them."

"The children themselves were clean and well dressed. Cupboards in their rooms were loaded with clothes, all clean and neatly hung up. There was lots of food in the house."

"There were toys all over the place, and games, a TV, radio and books. They were right up to date on everything. Connie wanted to talk about who is going to be the next president of the United States and she knew all about baseball and hockey."

Const. Newby said the parents were afraid that if they let the children go outside after so long inside, other children would make fun of them.

"It got to the point where the children learned to live inside," he said. "The only times they got out was at night, and then only for a few minutes."

Limited Forces Pose Dilemma

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP) — Two big twin-rotor helicopters and two Otter amphibious planes fly into the forests today as the RCAF joins the battle against 380 forest fires dotted along a 250-mile belt across British Columbia's southern interior.

The much-needed reinforcements for the province's aerial firefighting squadron were ordered Thursday night by Defense Minister Peckham in answer to a personal request by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

One of the helicopters and one Otter will be assigned to the Kamloops forest district where 267 fires are burning. The second helicopter and the other Otter go to the adjoining Nelson district which had 31 new fires Thursday, 29 of them started by an electrical storm.

The planes will be used to ferry men and supplies into remote areas and to search out new outbreaks in the vast woodlands. The helicopters are expected to prove especially valuable in this work.

WHICH TO FIGHT?

Forestry officials now face a constant dilemma in deciding which blazes to attack with their limited forces.

"We have to pick and choose from dozens of serious fires," says assistant Kamloops forester Norman McRae. "It's a question of what is the most serious and what we stand the best chance of beating."

Extreme heat Thursday kept both water bombers and a 200-man ground force from getting within striking distance of the 3,000-acre blaze near Lee Le Jeune, 30 miles south of here. But officials said the blaze, started by campers, remained within its guards.

Avenger planes bombed a fire at Dot Lake, 40 miles south of Savona, with benetone Thursday before it could reach dangerous proportions. The chemical, used in oil fires, forms a crust over the flames.

It was hoped a big B-17 Flying Fortress water bomber damaged Monday in a belly landing here would be back in the air today to join the fight against dozens of fires in the Blue River area, 100 miles north of Kamloops. These range from 1,000 to 8,000 acres. Only three new fires were started in the Kamloops forest district by an electrical storm which passed over Wednesday night. But in the adjoining Nelson district a call was sent out for extra equipment to fight 23 lightning fires caused by the storm.

A Dakota airliner flew to Cranbrook with hand tools and power pumps from Prince Rupert where there have been five fires this year. A second load was expected today at Castlegar.

In the United States northwest the forest fire situation continues to be equally serious.

Outspoken Nixon Pledges "Freedom Offensive"

CHICAGO (CP) — Vice-President Richard M. Nixon has pledged to roll back the frontiers of world Communist aggression by launching a grand offensive against world poverty, misery and disease if he becomes president next November.

In a tough, anti-Communist speech Thursday night winding up the four-day Republican national convention, the 47-year-old Nixon formally accepted in what he called "the greatest moment of my life" the Republican presidential nomination.

He welcomed aboard his "free world victory" ticket as a vice-presidential running mate Henry Cabot Lodge, the chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations and symbol of American resistance to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's challenge to the free world.

Nixon, speaking for 50 minutes from notes, and Lodge both stressed the theme of foreign affairs in their acceptance speeches.

Nixon's freedom offensive would include a large-scale government reorganization to centralize all of the administration's foreign-aid programs, such as loans and grants, technical assistance and cultural exchanges, under the president's direct control.

"All these must be welded together into one powerful economic and ideological striking force under the direct supervision and leadership of the United States."

Belgium Calls Troops Home

BRUSSELS (AP)—The Belgian government, under pressure to withdraw all its military forces from the Congo, announced today about 1,500 troops will be brought home in the near future.

There are about 12,000 Belgian troops in the Congo. These include both regulars assigned to two military bases retained by Belgium by treaty and reinforcements flown in since the outbreak of disorders after Belgium freed the Congo June 30. They are sharing with UN forces the job of keeping order.

MONTREAL (CP) — Premier Patrice Lumumba of the Congo said today on arrival here that the aim of all Africans is the establishment of a United States of Africa.

PEACHLAND ROAD ACTION "ARBITRARY"

School Board Upbraids Bennett

Kelowna school board has written Premier W. A. C. Bennett and Highways Minister P. A. Goghard protesting what it considers arbitrary action by the highways department in connection with the Powers Creek-Peachland highway reconstruction.

It reminds him he has made himself the champion of provincial government resistance to any high-handed federal action, and requests that in his government's dealings with B.C. councilmen he should extend the courtesy it demands of Ottawa.

The board feels incensed that while its concern with the matter was obvious to the department, at no time was it consulted about or advised of the plans. Its letter to the premier adopts a "let us be fair" attitude.

It reminds him he has made himself the champion of provincial government resistance to any high-handed federal action, and requests that in his government's dealings with B.C. councilmen he should extend the courtesy it demands of Ottawa.

This is the gist of the letter. W. M. Underwood, district engineer for the department of highways, said today all details of the Powers Creek-Peachland road reconstruction are being handled directly by Victoria and the Kelowna office has nothing to do with the project.

The school is going to be sandwiched between two highways, one having a 60-mile-an-hour speed limit, Fred Macklin, school district secretary-treasurer, told the board at its meeting Thursday night.

UNDERPASS?
C. E. Sladen, chairman, said it would be intolerable that children should have to walk across a highway with a 60-mile-an-hour speed limit on their way to school. However, he continued, he had reason to believe the department would construct an underpass, and there was a suitable point for this close to the school.

Vernon Residents Urged To Get Anti-Polio Shots

VERNON (Staff) — Medical health officer Dr. Duncan Black says that two cases of poliomyelitis have been reported this summer in the North Okanagan Health Unit area. Both were persons visiting the area.

While British Columbia has had 60 of the Canadian total of 168 cases of polio this summer, none has been reported from residents of Vernon or from any part of the North Okanagan Health Unit area.

Dr. Black said there is a daily clinic from 4 to 5 p.m. in the Vernon Health Unit building for anyone who wishes to have anti-polio shots or any other inoculation. No appointment is necessary and the service is free to everyone from infants to the aged.

Dr. Black explained that formerly Salk vaccine shots were recommended for persons up to the age of 40, but owing to the fact that serious cases of polio have been experienced by some persons over 40, the department of health has now made vaccine available to people of all ages.

Older people are by no means immune to polio, Dr. Black said.

There is more than 90 per cent protection against polio among school children in the North Okanagan Health Unit area. Most boys and girls have been treated at infant and pre-school clinics, but Dr. Black would like to see more pre-school youngsters receive inoculations.

ENDERBY NEWS

Town's One Doctor Gets An Assistant

By BOBBI STAHL Daily Courier Correspondent

ENDERBY — For nearly two decades, one doctor has served Enderby and district.

But this summer, Dr. J. H. Kope will be assisted by a new colleague to the community, Dr. A. E. Dixon.

Dr. Kope came here 19 years ago from the Prairies to give his services to the community. Since he has been here, he has rarely missed a day at the office of hospital. He was instrumental in organizing Enderby's first clinic, and was also connected with establishment of a new health centre.

Dr. Kope is active in many community affairs, along with his artistic wife. The couple are members of the Baptist Church.

Dr. Kope received his education in Saskatchewan. He taught school before gaining his doctor's degree.

In recent years, Enderby has been pointing with pride to a new memorial hospital, of which Dr. Kope is in charge.

Dr. Dixon was born in Alberta, received his early education in Wainwright, and graduated with a bachelor of science degree in medicine in 1948. He interned in Edmonton, was in general practice at Shaunessy Hospital for a year and subsequently, was for eight years a general practitioner at Mission City.

Dr. Dixon, Mrs. Dixon and their four children will live in the home formerly occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Kope.

VERNON (Staff) — A complete survey of water at the north end of Okanagan Lake will be made by sanitary inspector Laurel Benham.

The survey, which will take place "once the second chlorine chamber has been put into effect," will determine the removal or retention of warning signs.

The signs, warning the public of the potential danger of swimming at the head of Okanagan Lake, are still up, Dr. Black reported. These were removed recently by a person or persons unknown.

Removal of the signs was a serious matter, Dr. Black deplored, adding that while Vernon condition, many of the travelling public are not so informed and quite naturally would want to stop and bathe in the current weather.

Mrs. Coe placed first in relay bending; Mr. Coe, third, in bareback challenge, with Mr. Coe placing first in the Western stock horse class, and Price Anderson, second.

Price Anderson placed first in the barrel race with Glen Coe second.

Vernon and District Riding Club is planning its 1960 horse show and gymkhana for Aug. 15 on the Coldstream club grounds.

Serious Leaks Found In Armstrong Reservoir

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Four serious leaks have been discovered in Armstrong's reservoir.

It may be necessary to shut off water for a day to make repairs, Ald. William Parker noted at a recent council meeting.

However, a sand bag dam is regarded as an alternative.

Since the water level goes down four or five feet after 4 p.m. it is likely a sand bag dam will be installed early in August, and all sprinkling prohibited after 4 p.m. that day.

Water connection to pony barns, replacement of 250 feet of wooden pipe with steel pipe, and installation of a stand pipe for fire protection, have been requested by the Interior Provincial Exhibition building committee.

The possibility of making a water connection with the Wood Avenue main will be investigated. Council has agreed to do the work providing cost is split three ways between fair board, municipal and city councils.

It will cost nearly $10,000 to install a flashing red light and bell at the Wood Avenue railroad crossing.

A letter from the Canadian National Railway indicated installation cost would be $9,800. In addition, the warning system would cost about $450 for annual maintenance.

Cost to the city would be $735 for installation and $135 yearly for maintenance.

Ball of $2,500 was set for Johnston, who had to be carried by RCMP to and from the courtroom as a result of severe leg injuries suffered in the crash.

Two junior leaders, Gail Skyrme and Judy Thomson, will be in charge of instruction. Cooks will be Mrs. R. Blard, Mrs. C. Thomson and Mrs. W. Bennett.

On the program are Bible study, swimming, hiking and many other activities of interest to youngsters.

Sweden's population is likely to rise from 7,518,000 at the end of 1960 to 8,245,000 by 1975, according to official estimates.

Senior Matric Fees May Jump Sharply

Students taking grade 13 in Kelowna may face a sharp boost in their annual fees.

At present they are charged $125. It is estimated that on the average each pupil, throughout all grades, costs the school board $320 annually.

A school district is not obligated to provide courses beyond grade 12, and, in fact, many of the larger districts in the province do not offer grade 13 tuition.

And that's the snag! Pupils from outside districts have been applying to the Kelowna board for permission to enroll for post graduate courses here.

There were 52 pupils registered in grade 13 here last year. The position was discussed at a

School Addition Plans Postponed Until September

Kelowna School Board has decided to shelve until only September—its plan to add four extra rooms to the Dr. Knox Junior-Senior High School at present under construction.

The addition had been prompted by re-estimation of the population growth of the Glenmore district.

The provincial department of education pays 50 per cent of the building costs and its approval was necessary before proceeding with the extension.

The department questioned the rising population estimate. So... the board will wait until September when it has firm, irrefutable enrollment figures, and will re-open the matter.

3-Month Term For Auto Theft

Frederick Lewis Haase was sentenced to three months imprisonment in city court Wednesday, on a charge of automobile theft. He had pleaded guilty.

Evidence was presented that on February 13, under the name of Emil Snyder, he obtained an auto, valued at $1,550, from a city firm.

He gave a cheque made out for $700 and was allowed to drive the car away. The arrangement was that he would "show the auto to his father" and if his father approved the deal, the balance of the payments were to be made in installments.

He never returned and the cheque proved to be worthless. The auto was subsequently involved in an accident and recovered by police for its rightful owners.

A warrant was issued for the arrest of Haase, who, it was stated, was believed to be in the Dawson Creek area.

He was arrested Monday, when recognized in Vernon.

Increase Sought For Library Use

F. J. Orme, recently appointed Kelowna schools superintendent, was one of a four-member panel of educationists which has suggested the provincial education department should make an allowance of from $4 to $6 per capita for school libraries.

At present, the department makes an overall annual per capita allowance which the school boards allot to various spheres of activity as they see fit.

The library allotment under this system generally works out between $1.50 and $2.50. In Kelowna it is $2 at present.

The suggested boost or special allowance of $4 to $6 would enable school boards to embark on "ambitious" library extension programs.

The discussion which Mr. Orme joined in took place at the 1960 principals' conference and workshop at the University of British Columbia.

Also attending the conference was Sam Hawker, principal of Dr. Knox Junior-Senior High School at present under construction here.

Regatta Ticket Sales Will "Zoom" Shortly

Ticket sales for the 1960 Kelowna Regatta should be "excellent" in the next few days, the committee is busy preparing the huge water show was told Thursday night.

Ticket committee chairman Jack Kelly said sales to date have been poor "but that's normal" at this stage.

Mr. Kelly told the parent body that so far a total of 300 reserved tickets have been bought up locally.

He said there is a total of 1,300 tickets on sale at present in Oliver, Penticton, Vernon and Kamloops.

Park admission tickets went on sale earlier in the week at Regatta Headquarters.

CIRCUS PROBE
In other Regatta business, float committee member Bob Simpson said he will be conducting a full investigation into the operations of the Al. C. Kelly and Miller Brothers Circus, which is scheduled for Kelowna Saturday.

A percentage of the circus profits, while in Kelowna, is slated to go to the community float committee.

Mr. Simpson told the meeting he will be in Vernon today to find out "just how this circus works" and report back. The carnival is now set up in Vernon.

Mr. Simpson added that the circus has had "poor publicity" in recent weeks.

Other regatta committee business included the confirmation of the Wenatchee Boys Bugle Band as performers in the regatta parade and the arranging of planes for the ski divers act.

Most of the big show's preparation is now centered around the scheduling of acts and the many competitions.

No Shortage Of Officials Anticipated

There will be no shortage of officials at the 54th annual Regatta, an events' committee spokesman says.

Robert Simpson told Thursday's annual Regatta meeting "at least 12" of the timing and starting personnel will be drawn from the ranks of volunteers in the Kelowna area.

And others could be obtained from the Vancouver area, Mr. Simpson said.

A list of the officials will be prepared today—"but in any case, there is nothing much to worry about on that score," said Mr. Simpson.

Double Success For Trade Board

The Kelowna delegation scored two successes at the Quarterly meeting of Okanagan and Main Line Associated Boards of Trade, held at Sicamous Wednesday.

A resolution was unanimously adopted expressing the member boards support for the Princeton-Peachland cutoff, calling for development of the direct logging road route between the two communities.

Delegates were also in agreement that all Valley boards of trade should unite in one organization.

At present there are two groups, the Okanagan and Main Line Associated Boards and also the Okanagan Boundary Boards.

It was decided at the meeting to enter into discussions with the Okanagan Boundary group with a view to a future merger.

The Kelowna Board of Trade has become recognized as the champion of the Princeton-Peachland cutoff, and has long advocated union for all Valley boards.

Kelowna was represented at Sicamous by R. H. Wilson, vice-president, J. G. Mervyn, executive member, and Fred J. Heatley, manager.

AVOIDS CONFUSION
The U.S. weather bureau began christening tropical hurricanes with girls' names, in alphabetical order to avoid confusion, in 1953.

The discussion was scheduled for this afternoon on whether to fence the area off from outside view or lower the admission charge.

The speedsters will compete for a plaque indicating first prize or silver or bronze cups for second and third spots respectively.

Driving May Be Included School Course

Driving may be included on the public school curriculum.

It will be if the Okanagan branch of the British Columbia School Trustees Association has its way.

At a recent meeting in Revelstoke, the branch adopted a resolution, to be presented at the association's next convention, suggesting that courses in automobile driving be provided in schools.

Advocates of the scheme point to the poor quality of teen age driving generally, and the number of school aged drivers involved in accidents, as proof of the necessity of such a program.

Admission Prices For Go-Kart Races Under Discussion

Spectators at the "go-kart" races, scheduled here during Regatta week may only pay 25 cents for admittance to the midget motor races.

Robert Simpson suggested to Thursday's regular Regatta meeting the customary 50 cents was "far too high".

The miniature racing cars, piloted by youths, will perform in City Park Oval during the annual festival.

The discussion was scheduled for this afternoon on whether to fence the area off from outside view or lower the admission charge.

The speedsters will compete for a plaque indicating first prize or silver or bronze cups for second and third spots respectively.

Airport Opening Ceremony Will Be Major "Spectacle"

BY PATRICK ROE
Courier Staff Writer

The opening of Kelowna Airport Aug. 11 bids to be one of the greatest spectacles ever staged Kamloops MP.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett will attend, unless pressure of business changes plans. Minister of transport will pre-highways, P. A. Gagliardi, has al-side at the ceremonies. He and ready confirmed he will be here his party from the east will arrive in a government Viscount aircraft.

Supporting him will be his cabinet colleague, Hon. Davie Fulton, minister of justice and greatest spectacles ever staged Kamloops MP.

From the Valley, Mayors Charles E. Oliver of Penticton and F. A. Becker of Vernon will be present, as will Reeves of all adjacent municipalities.

Victoria and Vancouver will be represented by their chief magistrates, Percy Scourrah and Tom Alsbury, respectively.

In the morning the public will be afforded an opportunity of inspecting a Canadian Pacific Airlines Britannia liner, and a Trans Canada Airlines Super Constellation, both specially flown in for the occasion.

The Royal Canadian Air Force will put on display T-33 jets, a helicopter and air rescue equipment.

The United States Air Force will also be sending its most modern jets. If regulations or restrictions prohibit these from touching down, they will nevertheless stage aeronautical exercises without landing.

A system of air traffic control has been set up to guide the scores of private planes which are expected from all over western Canada and the U.S.

The entertainment list will be headed by Teresa Stratas, fresh from her triumph in Madame Butterfly at the annual Vancouver Festival. A 21 year old Canadian, she is reckoned the brightest star ascending the theatrical horizon.

Bands, sky-divers and TCA's troupe of calypso artists will add to the festivities.

CPA will play host to the dignitaries at a unique luncheon in the Aquatic prior to the opening. The dishes will be the traditional fare of various points on the globe served on CPA airliners.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is headed by Jack Gordon, with Mayor R. F. Parkinson and Alderman Jack Treadgold representing the city on it. Civic and business leaders here are convinced the importance of the new airport to Kelowna cannot be over emphasized.

It is regarded as putting the city on the national and international map as it never was before.

The old Kelowna Municipal Airport—or Ellison Airport—was closed in Aug. 1959. After extensive reconstruction work and a lengthening of the runways, an inaugural flight was made by CPA Convair liner on July 1 this year.

Henceforth it is to be known as the Kelowna Airport.

Trustees Have No Trouble In Filling Teaching Posts

One sure sign of Kelowna's popularity as a residential area is the ease with which the school board here can fill its vacancies.

While some comparable districts lag with up to 25 per cent deficiencies in staff strength, only four positions remain unfilled here, and in three of these, appointments are pending investigation of applications.

Appointments approved by the Kelowna School Board Thursday are: Mrs. Thelma Davies to Kelowna High as home economics teacher; Mrs. Joyce Young to Winfield Elementary; Miss P. E. Griffith to George Pringle as physical education instructor; Miss V. B. Harrison to Oyama; Donald B. Varney to Kelowna High; Barbara Maigret appointed as elementary teacher-librarian; Mrs. S. W. Livingston to grade one at Raymer Ave., and W. J. Spiers appointed as relieving teacher.

Mrs. Elmer H. Beet has accepted a transfer from George Pringle High to Lakeview Elementary, and J. M. Barre from Kelowna Junior High to Dr. Knox Junior-Senior High.

The board accepted with regret the resignations of Mrs. G. Smith of Winfield Elementary and Mrs. J. A. Bolingbrook, grade one teacher at Raymer Ave. Both

Trustees May Press For "Closed Season" On School Teachers

A permanent "closed season" on teachers may be declared throughout British Columbia.

The Okanagan branch of the British Columbia School Trustees Association has decided to press for adoption of a code of ethics at the next convention of the association.

Under the code, poaching of one district's teachers by another district would be specifically listed as a non-ethical practice.

Is Council Really Serious This Time On Hedge Bylaw?

One wonders just how serious city council is when it says through the passing of a resolution on Monday night, that it intends to enforce the bylaw dealing with hedges and fences on corner lots. The bylaw was passed many years ago because it was realized that certain intersections were made definitely hazardous by the height of hedges and fences which obstructed the view. It stipulated that no hedge or fence should be higher than three feet.

The bylaw, of course, has been consistently ignored. Periodically it would come before council and the subject would be discussed with some heat and determination, but seldom did any action result. Certainly intersections which were made dangerous ten years ago by hedges are still dangerous and made so by the selfsame hedges.

One has a certain definite sympathy for the property-owner. The hedge was planted and grown through a desire for privacy; a natural desire shared by most of us. In many cases the hedges have been developed into things of beauty and it would be a shame to cut them down to the stipulated three feet. However, on the other hand, they are a definite traffic menace and some of them have been the direct cause of more than one near accident. Hedges are view obstructions certainly; that actually is why they have been grown there.

The city's control bylaw is a good one—on paper. But any bylaw is only as good as its enforcement. This hedge bylaw has been a "hot potato" periodically dropped into council's lap. This time they have juggled the potato long enough to pass a resolution that the bylaw shall be enforced. It will be interesting to watch and see how quickly the potato cools off—again.

Million Miles Of Travel

More than a million miles' worth of travel business was registered at B.C. Travel Bureau reception centres during the week ending July 16th, the Honourable Earle C. Westwood, Minister of Recreation and Conservation, reports.

"In view of the fact that one large automobile club estimates the American motorist spends $4.00 for every 30 miles of holiday travel, this will give the British Columbia public some idea of how much travel money is being brought into the province by government and regional tourist promotion," Mr. Westwood said.

The 1,004,690 miles of travel reported by the reception centres at Douglas, Flood and Cranbrook represents only the 1,237 U.S. cars which stopped at the centres for information during the seven-day period, 58 per cent of total cars handled during that time, the remainder being composed of 22 per cent B.C. residents travelling within their own province, and 20 per cent Canadians visiting from other provinces.

"The total of 2,146 cars registered by the information centres from July 10 to 16, is, in itself, only a fraction of the holiday traffic using B.C. highways," the minister said.

Characteristics of the traffic, revealed by the Minister's report, show that Alberta travellers top the list of Canadian visitors to B.C. with Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan following in that order.

Among American motorists, 33 per cent of those counted during the mid-July week came from Washington State, with 32 per cent from California, 9 per cent from Oregon, and smaller percentages from 35 other states as far apart as New Jersey and Hawaii.

"Smokey The Bear", Forest Fire Symbol Under Attack

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Smokey the Bear, symbol of forest fire prevention in the United States and most of Canada, is under attack again as an intruder and scavenger.

Despite murmurs of discontent his future seems safe but in deference to the critics, the Canadian Forestry Association is considering a second symbol using a man as a central character.

CFA officials feel that a forest ranger or some similar conservation officer may appease the opponents of the American brown bear. But Smokey will stay, they say, because the children love him.

Featured in United States conservation literature since 1945, Smokey was approved by the CFA as a Canadian symbol in 1956. The arguments in his favor were that he looks as much Canadian as American, that he is known to American tourists and that he is a means of establishing a common emblem over most of the continent.

BERTIE THE BEAVER

There was talk at that time that Canada should not have to go to the United States to find a poster plump and the opposition was given voice again this month when Robert Porritt, member for Mackenzie South on the Northwest Territories Council, described the bear with the broad-brimmed hat as an unwelcome immigrant to Canada.

Mr. Porritt told a council session at Resolute Bay that he was appalled to see thousands of Smokey posters being distributed in the north by forestry officials.

"Surely we should be capable of producing our own posters when they concern our own resources," he said. He suggested the posters not only be printed in Canada but feature a Canadian symbol such as Alberta's Bertie the Beaver.

Bertie, drawn by one of American cartoonist Walt Disney's artists, was launched in Alberta this year as a project of the forestry division of the provincial government's lands and forests department.

VICIOUS KILLER

Government officials said they have nothing against Smokey but H. G. Jensen, Alberta's deputy minister of lands and forests, said "there is no reason why we should go to the United States for a symbol."

Another forestry official said "the kind old gentleman in scout hat and shovel can turn out to be a vicious killer whereas the beaver is Canada's top conservationist, harmless and a symbol of Canada."

"A bear is not a conservationist."

West Africa More Civilized Now Says Teacher

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)

For Elizabeth Utting, returning home on furlough from Africa meant readjusting to many conveniences Canadians take for granted.

At her mission station in Angola, Portuguese West Africa, there is no electricity and no telephone. Lighting is provided by oil lamps, clothes are washed by hand, cooking is done on a wood stove and messages are sent by telegraph with no assurance they will ever reach their destination.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

By THE VENERABLE D. S. CATCHPOLE

INCONSISTENCY, THY NAME IS MAN!

News has just come in that Senator John Kennedy has been chosen as the Democratic Candidate for the Presidency of the United States in the November election. This news was qualified by further reports that it is doubtful whether he can carry certain southern states because of his attitude towards the rights of man, and secondly because he is a Roman Catholic. It is not of the first objection that I would write a note but of the second.

There was a day when being a Roman Catholic and wishing to be a conscientious citizen of whatever country, could involve a man in a double loyalty. Surely, in these days, this situation does not arise. I find it extremely difficult to imagine a man can about what policy he should follow as president of the United States. I am not a Roman Catholic nor have I any intention of becoming one but I think it is high time that we departed from medievalism and put an end to dark fears that any country, at least in our part of the world, is going to start a religious persecution or have its government dominated by Jesuits.

I cannot understand how modern populations can be so inconsistent. The United States committed itself to government by an Episcopalian for twelve years. I do not remember what Mr. Truman professed to be but Mr. Eisenhower seemed to discover he was a Presbyterian after his election. Canada has had a Roman Catholic prime minister more than once. It has also had a Presbyterian (I imagine) in Mr. William Lyon Mackenzie King. It is rumored that he was also a spiritualist. We now have a fairly stiff type of Baptist in the prime minister's office. England has had a Welsh Baptist, a Midland Unitarian, a Scottish Presbyterian as well as a number of Anglicans as their first ministers. It is true that for some time the Royal Family has been of the Anglican persuasion but the early Georges were not Anglicans, I should think.

If you come to the cities, Toronto has had a Jewish Canadian ruling in City Hall. I am not sure that a Roman Catholic has ever reached that mighty height but good old Toronto, the centre for years or Orangeism, can hardly be expected to break with the past so suddenly. What really beats me is that no one seems to care in the slightest that the chief magistrate of a city or the premier of a province or the prime minister of the whole country may be a heathen. Better, says the fanatical populace, to have a heathen than to have a Roman Catholic. Some people may not like the Roman Church. Lots of people do not like the Anglican Church, for that matter. Surely, however, by a great stretch of the imagination both R.C.s and Anglicans may be 'allowed' to be Christians. Is it not better to have a Christian at the head of government than a man who is guided by no such faith?

If Senator Kennedy had been longed to what is sometimes termed "the round church" no question of his religious affiliation would have been raised but he happens to be a Roman Catholic. It just does not make sense. What is the country afraid of in his belonging to a well-known church? Are all Roman Catholics subversive by nature?

OTTAWA REPORT

Reduction In Armed Forces

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

July 1960 finds Ottawa echoing to rumors that our defence forces will be cut back to a size which Canadian taxpayers can afford; at the same time our unemployed labour force has swollen to a size which Canada cannot afford.

July 1955, exactly five years ago, saw these two specific dangers forecasted and warned against by a Canadian spokesman at the first conference of parliamentarians of the North Atlantic Alliance.

That Paris conference was held on the initiative of Canada; our suggestion was considered so valuable that similar conferences have been held regularly every year since.

STELLAR DELEGATES

The 190 legislators gathered at that first meeting to represent all 15 nations in the NATO alliance were of very high calibre. They included many outstanding parliamentary leaders with long experience in international relations. One seasoned observer picked out these as making outstanding contributions: Mr. van Cauwelaert, former president of the Belgian Chamber of Representatives; Senate Speaker Wishart Robertson, Mr. J. C. Diefenbaker and Mr. Alistair Stewart of Canada; France's Minister of War, General Pierre Billotte; Dr. Jaeger, vice-president of the West German Bundestag; and the British leader, Colonel Walter Elliott.

Other notable delegates included a number of French Premier's and statesmen from other countries, such as George Bidault, Christian Pineau, Michel Debre and Maurice Schumann, Herr Strauss and Prince Bismarck, and Philip Noel Baker.

The mention of three Canadian names in this list emphasizes the prominent contribution made by our delegation of 6 senators and 20 MPs. It included seven past or future cabinet ministers, with less than members of the present ministry: Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Mrs. Fairclough, Messrs Balcer, Harkness and Brooks. Outstanding delegates from Britain, France, Germany, Italy and other NATO countries that outstanding Canadian group was rated the best informed, most able and most convincing army as a separate unit in 1873.

In its oratory.

While it would be invidious to pick out any one among our delegates who were all such strong supporters of NATO, their general feeling was perhaps most neatly summarised by Alistair Stewart, then a CCF MP from Winnipeg:

"We from Canada are not part of Europe," he told the assembly. "But we cannot live without Europe. Europe is necessary to us. We believe rightly or wrongly that Western Europe is not a viable area either in terms of defence or in terms of economics. We do not think that you can exist without North America any more than we in North America can exist without you. We need each other, and we have to work with each other. We believe that we have to help each other, but we are supplementary to each other. It is not our desire to minimise defence, because we realise that the defensive mechanism of NATO has saved us and provided us with the shield which we need. But I would remind you that a shield can become intolerably heavy."

STRONG ECONOMY FOR DEFENCE

"If our economies were to weaken," Mr. Stewart warned, "then the cost of defence would be such that NATO itself would be weakened. And so we see that the economic aspects of NATO and the defence aspects of NATO go together hand in hand, and we would ignore one to the detriment of the other."

Now, five years later, we see that we have woefully ignored the economic aspects of the NATO alliance. The 15 allies are at present split into two warring groups, with a number of hostile skirmishers around the fringe. We are in a cold war; in this cold war we are fighting our own military allies with weapons of trade. We are all ignoring our mutual economic interests so seriously that we in Canada are now finding the defence shield too heavy to sustain. We are cutting our defence forces. The Kremlin has won the first battle without firing a shot.

Kelowna Art Exhibit Society Stage Outdoor Show In Park

An interesting outdoor show of paintings is being held again this year by the Kelowna Art Exhibit Society. The paintings are hung by the promenade entrance to the park at the foot of Bernard Ave., and the showing will continue from 10 a.m. until dusk daily until Saturday. Artists from various parts of the valley are submitting their work, and judging by the excellent display, one readily realizes there is a great deal of talent in the Okanagan.

There are water colors, pastels, oils and abstracts on exhibit, many of these paintings are for sale. There are no high-pressure salesmen and there is no admittance charge to view them.

Mrs. Nixon Trained For White House

CHICAGO (AP) — Calm, unruffled and controlled, Mrs. Patricia Nixon has been in training for years for the White House race she's about to make with her husband.

This is the climax for the Nixons after 14 years of being one of the best-known political partnerships in the United States.

Pat Nixon thinks her husband's greatest qualification for the presidency lies in his working and training under President Eisenhower.

In the last 7½ years, Mrs. Nixon has done every job that could be required of a president's wife.

She has travelled in 52 countries, sat at tables of Kings and potentates and walked among the people of many lands.

SHOULD MAKE FRIENDS

The greatest contribution the wife of a U.S. president, says Mrs. Nixon, is to make friendly contact with the leaders of other nations, wherever possible.

Auburn-haired, five feet five inches tall, slender Mrs. Nixon at 46 has stamina that amazes those much younger than she.

Some critics say her performance is just too perfect. But Mrs. Nixon is an admitted perfectionist.

"I don't do a thing without trying to do it well," she once said.

IN HIGH-HEELED SHOES

She emerges cool and smiling from hours of handshaking and day-long touring in high-heeled shoes.

Pat Nixon professes to love her rigorous role, except that it often keeps her from her daughters, Julie, 12, and Patricia, 14.

On the eve of her husband's nomination as the Republican presidential candidate, Mrs. Nixon said:

"This really is the American dream, where people from humble circumstances can, through sheer hard work, go up the ladder."

Pat Nixon was born Thelma Catherine Ryan in the mining town of Ely, Nev., daughter of a miner, gold miner William Ryan. (Patricia was a nickname at first but the adopted name stuck.)

RAISED ON TRUCK FARM

Her early years were spent on her father's 10-acre truck farm in Artesia, Calif.

Her mother, Kate Halberstadt, Enugu, Nigeria.

A German immigrant, died when Pat was 12. At 17, she had lost both parents.

She worked her way through college, held jobs as a typist, a salesgirl, even had a bit part in a movie, and finally taught commercial subjects in Whittier, Calif., high school.

Pat met Nixon in Whittier, his hometown, in 1937 at a group where she joined in amateur theatricals. He was just out of law school and they married three years later, on June 21, 1940.

During the war, Nixon served as a naval officer for four years while Pat travelled with him wherever she could, taking jobs as file clerk, secretary and bank teller.

From the day Nixon decided to try for office and entered his first campaign for Congress in 1946, his wife Pat has been his partner and best political team player. They have never lost a campaign together.

PUSH-BUTTON TREES

As markets grow, as the demand for timber and wood and paper products expands, as competition gets keener, so grows the need for greater and more efficient production.

Over the years, more and more machines have gone to work for the forest industry. Peelers that reduce a log to plywood veneer in a twinkling. Barkers, chippers, sanders — if you've ever visited a plywood plant, if you work in a pulp or paper mill, you know the extent, and the importance of mechanization and automation.

This, however, does not forecast a "man vs. machine" technology, with mechanical and electronic monsters doing all the work. On the contrary, it forecasts even greater need for the kind of human skills that machines can never perform.

For example, as the automobile industry grew, and more and more machines were used to turn out cars, more and more men were needed to make the machines work.

Today, even on the threshold of the Age of Space, the Age of Man is far from over. No machine has been invented — nor can it ever be — to do man's thinking for him.

People will always be the essential force in our industry and in our company. Not only for what they can do, but for what they are. Fellow human beings.

GONE FISHING

With JIM TREADGOLD

WITH THE CURRENT EXTREME HOT weather, the use of deep lines and more hardware is apparent, particularly on Okanagan and Shuswap Lakes.

Some anglers, however, are still doing well at times in the upper lakes—mostly in the late evening.

THE LARGEST BROUGHT IN FROM OKANAGAN Lake recently was a nine and a half pound trout taken by Rev. D. M. Rathjem of Summerland.

He nabbed the big trout at Wilson's Landing, using a fly rod and six pound leaders, trolling a small golf tee spoon.

Rock fishing from the various deep-water rock areas such as Wilson's Landing, Nakeen, McKinley's and south of Okanagan Mission, is improving and grasshoppers should be a good bait soon.

The rumored stopping of trolling near the Okanagan Lake bridge would be strongly protested by anglers.

Few reports have been received from Beaver Lake but road and camp are open. So far no forest closure.

A FOREST CLOSURE HAS BEEN PUT ON OYAMA Lake drainage and the road to Oyama Lake is closed to all fishermen, campers.

Bear, Esperon and Bealeau lakes are still under the closure on the west side from Bear Creek north to the head of the lake.

Dee Lake reports fishing is slow due to the hot weather.

Some parties are getting fair catches, mostly on gray and silver flatfish, dick nite wobblers and spinners.

Carl Blair of Kent, Wash., on their second trip to Dee Lake this season, landed 20 beauties at First Fly Lake, using Carey Flies fished deep.

Donald Hockford and wife of Seattle caught limits at Alex Mt. Lake and 12 on Brunette Lake using flatfish.

Mr. and Mrs. Harriman caught several two to two and a half pounders at Doreen Lake, using spinners. Those with ambition to hike into Rod and Min Lakes this hot weather are being well rewarded.

POSTILL LAKE REPORTS FISHING IS holding up very well in spite of the weather.

Good catches of trout up to one and a half pounds are coming out of Postill but South and Twin Lakes have slowed up during the day. Evening fly fishing is very good.

BEST LURES FOR THE WEEK ON POSTILL have been the flatfish and carey and grizzly king flies.

Best catches during the past week at Postill were taken by Mr. Lemon and party of Calgary who took 80 trout in four days fishing in the early morning and late evening.

THE NEW MIGRANT PLUG had another good week at Shuswap.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Shaw of Cranbrook were taking both Gray and Kamloops trout with this plug, while most other fishermen were being skunked.

Gordon took some larger than ten pounds during the heat of the day using deep lines.

He finally lost his one and only migrant to a very large trout which got away with his complete outfit including the rod holder which was torn from the boat.

Gordon had made the mistake of putting too much tension on the reel brake because he had just missed three good strikes in a row.

AS FAR AS HE KNOWS THE FISH still has the outfit and, no doubt, would sell it cheap.

THIS BRINGS UP ANOTHER STORY OF LATE.

Sax Koyama, the 1958 derby winner, tells this one on his friend who was fishing in Shuswap and landed a seven-pound Kamloops trout on a mac squid plug.

On removing the plug he noted there were two mac squid plugs in the mouth of this fish, and attached to the other plug was a leader, line, rod and reel which was all retrieved.

The moral of this story—Fish never learn.

JIM BURBRIDGE REPORTS GOOD stream fishing in Adams River in the Canyon area, taking trout up to four pounds in that fast water.

Rookie Knows What To Do; No Training

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—

Rookie Jim Marichal at 21 has pitched and won his first three major league games with San Francisco Giants.

"He's mummy," says Giant manager Tom Sheehan. "He's had no real training, yet he instinctively knows what to do."

The boyish looking Latin, who speaks little English, started pitching as a boy six years ago in the little town of Monte Christy in the Dominican Republic because it looked like fun.

Who taught him? Marichal answers quickly. "Nobody."

He throws fast balls, sliders, curves and changeups, and he has control. He has walked only six batters in his three games. He's struck out 24.

"He's got a lot of finesse," commented Warren Spahn of Milwaukee. "Nothing seems to bother him." That amounted to high praise from a man who has won 278 games while losing 179.

Braves manager Charles Dressen came to the pitcher's mound before the third inning to beef about Marichal's stance. Dressen argued the youngster's foot was in an illegal position when he threw. Plate umpire Jocko Conlan ruled for Marichal.

"I no pay attention to it," added Marichal. "I no do anything wrong."

Golf Event Nets $100 For City Diving Fund

The Kelowna Golf Club has contributed $100 to the Olympic Diving Fund as the result of their twilight golf event Wednesday.

Over 80 golfers took part in the mixed competition with each player playing a two-ball match. A 37, carded by the team of Mrs. Helen Van der Vliet and Bob Taylor, earned them the low gross honors.

Mrs. Donnie Young and Al Anderson finished with a 30 to top the low net event.

Winning combinations were presented with golf balls following the competitions with bingo rounding out the evening's entertainment.

NO CLUTCH HITTERS

Cleveland can't hit in the clutch. The vanishing Indians, losers of 15 of their last 20 games, put 22 runners on base, 16 by hits and six by walks. Only two of them scored. They left 17 on base.

Cleveland's Jim Perry, who has 11 victories, permitted only nine hits in losing his fifth decision. Three Yankee hits, were home runs: Mickey Mantle's 26th, Tony Kubek's ninth and Clete Boyer's eighth, accounting for all the runs.

Piersall provided the comic relief in the nightcap. In the first inning he hid in centerfield and had to be ordered out by umpire Joe Paparella.

In the seventh inning, Jimmy amused the crowd of 39,812 by throwing up baseballs in the outfield and catching them behind his back. In the eighth, with Duran batting, he crept in almost behind second base, but was waved back by second baseman Ken Aspromonte.

Piersall wasn't thrown out of the game, but teammate Johnny Temple was. Temple asked umpire Al Smith for the time following Yogi Berra's ground rule double. He was refused. A moment later, Berra was permitted time to remove his protective shin guard.

British Entry In Olympics Trains Hard

LONDON (AP)—Gordon Pirie trained for the Olympic Games the hard way—by running the equivalent of twice around the world in a four-year conditioning session.

That's a measure of the 29-year-old Briton's dedication to a sport he's graced for more than 10 years.

"You get up, go to work, eat, train and go to bed," said Pirie's entry in the 5,000 and 10,000 metres Thursday.

"You run till you see stars and are numb with exhaustion. It's far worse than climbing a mountain because it must be repeated every day."

It's the third time he's been entered for both the 5,000 and 10,000 metres in the Olympics. The nearest he's been to winning was four years ago in Melbourne when he took second place behind Russia's Vladimir Kuts in the 5,000.

Pirie has collected world records from 3,000 metres to six miles. The only one still on the books is his 3,000-metre mark of 7:52.8 set four years ago.

The British star said he had met up with Blue Caps 8:30 tonight at King's Stadium in regular season action.

YANKS BACK ON TOP

Associated Press Staff Writer

Jimmy Piersall may be right, after all.

When the Cleveland players threatened recently to hold a meeting to discuss what should be done about Piersall's scrapes with the umpires, the explosive outfielder remarked bitterly:

"And while they're discussing me, maybe they should also discuss the hitters who have been taking so many third strikes with men on bases and the pitchers who have been throwing so many home runs balls."

The meeting, of course, didn't come off. But the team's ineptness with men on bases and the Indian pitchers' home-run throwing habit continued one of their most inept performances of the season Thursday night as the New York Yankees moved them down 4-0 and 9-2 to regain first place from Chicago by .003 percentage points. The White Sox lost 4-2 in Boston to the Red Sox.

Other American League games saw Baltimore Orioles blank Kansas City Athletics 5-0 and Washington Senators edge Detroit Tigers 6-5.

Temple blew his top and was given the heave-ho.

National League

It was rookie uprising day in the National League Thursday. Candidates for first year honors popped up nearly everywhere.

In San Francisco, pitching sensation Juan Marichal posted his third straight spectacular performance, a seven-hitter, as the Giants defeated the Milwaukee Braves 3-2 in 10 innings.

In Los Angeles, big Frank Howard drove in six runs with a grand slam homer and a single as the Dodgers outslugged the Cincinnati Reds 8-6.

In Chicago, Pancho Herrera walloped his 15th home run and drove in two runs in Philadelphia's 3-2 decision over the Cubs.

Other first year men who distinguished themselves were Philadelphia pitcher Dallas Green, who turned in a winning six-hitter, the Cubs' Morris Thacker, who drove in his team's only run, and Cincinnati's Gordon Coleman and Chico Cardenas, who homered in a losing cause.

Pittsburgh, enjoying a day off, along with St. Louis, saw its first place lead increased to two games over Milwaukee.

Marichal, the Giants' 21-year-old right-hander, continued the brilliant pitching that marked his debut when he turned in a spectacular one-hitter against Philadelphia. His second victory was a four-hitter against Pittsburgh. In three starts, he has given up only 12 hits, striking out 24 and walking but six.

"He looked like Walter Johnson to me," said Hank Aaron. The Milwaukee slugger was born in 1934, seven years after the immortal Washington pitcher hurled his last game. "He throws strikes . . . makes you hit the ball."

FLAG HOPES ARE BRIGHT

Courier Staff Writer

Give 'em an inch and they'll take a mile.

Kelowna Labatts, counted out of the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League finals just three weeks ago, have surprised everyone except manager Hank Tostenson by creeping to within percentage points of the second-place Oliver OBCs.

The "catalyst" in the speeded up reaction which saw the Labs climb from fifth to third was an OMBL ruling last week which gave Tostenson's crew victories which originally had been chalked up in the loss column.

BIG LIFT FOR LABS

The unexpected change in standing has given the Labs a big lift, and they're not even stopping long enough to say thank you.

Last night at Elks' Stadium, the Labs forced the Kamloops Okonots into early miscues and then hung on to edge Joe Yankchuk's charges 6-4.

The victory — the sixth in a row for the locals — kept their pennant-grabbing hopes alive although the odds will be against them.

But as a fan said afterwards, "remember 'dem New York Giants in 1951." He was, of course referring to Leo Durocher's Giants, who came from nothing to snatch the National League flag from the then Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Giants won the pennant on a dramatic home run by Bobby Thompson in a playoff game with the Dodgers.

Although the Labs haven't a park last night's sixth and seventh of the season. They gave him the lead in the home-run parade, two over Kamloops' Buck Buchanan, who went hitless.

The victory — the sixth in a row for the locals — kept their pennant-grabbing hopes alive although the odds will be against them.

FRITZ HOMERS

He blasted a pair out of the park last night's sixth and seventh of the season. They gave him the lead in the home-run parade, two over Kamloops' Buck Buchanan, who went hitless.

The victory — the sixth in a row for the locals — kept their pennant-grabbing hopes alive although the odds will be against them.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

The winners grabbed a 2-0 lead by the second inning and stretched it to 5-0 by the fourth.

The Okonots slowly pecked away at the huge gap, slicing it to 6-4 in the ninth before they rally ended with the bases loaded.

Fritz' golf - shot circuit clout in the second, followed by Jack Lipp's double and an error to Kamloops' Barry McDowell on John Smart's sharp grounder gave the some 350 fans something to cheer about in the second inning.

Three singles and two errors in the fourth built the Labs' lead to 5-0 before Fritz belted another out of the park in the fifth for a 6-0 lead.

Stan Kato's round-tripper, a walk and an error narrowed the margin to 6-2 in the top of the sixth.

A singleton in the seventh narrowed the gap even further.

With two killed in the ninth, the roof caved in on Denbow. He was responsible for the Okonots' lone run of the inning.

There were three double-plays in the game, two by the visitors and both coming at strategic points.

"THIS IS THE WAY TO HOLD THE BALL"

Ferris W. Runnals, proprietor of Meridian Bowling Lanes, explains the finer points of the game to "Cap" Capozzi, head of the Capozzi Enterprises, the firm that is responsible for the development of Shops Capri. The new bowling alley officially opens Saturday. (Courier Staff Photo)

Welcome

MERIDIAN LANES

to Shops Capri

This is the Interior's Most Modern Bowling Alley

Featuring:

- Air Conditioning
  - Twelve Lanes
  - Automatic Pin Setters
  - Nursery
- and many other modern facilities

The management of Capozzi Enterprises Ltd. are indeed happy to welcome to Shops Capri Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Runnals and wish them all success in their enterprise. The bowling fraternity of Kelowna and District are fortunate to have available to them a bowling alley of this magnitude and we feel sure that the management's foresight and confidence in selecting Shops Capri as the home for Meridian Lanes will be fully justified by local patronage in the future.

Ultra-Modern Five-Pin Bowling Alley Opens At Shops Capri Sat.

By FRED COLLINS
Courier Staff Writer

Whether you're a "dead-eye" professional who consistently hits for scores of 450 or just a novice looking for an evening of healthy recreation, your paths are likely to cross at the newest Shops Capri Shopping Centre addition, the Meridian Bowling Lanes.

The ultra-modern alley is set to begin operations Saturday. Ferris W. "Fats" Runnals who is in partnership with his wife, Margaret, notes that the 12-lane alley is the most modern in Western Canada.

It is equipped with Double-Diamond Pin-Setters, an automatic time-saving device designed for bowler's convenience. The installation of such automatic pin-setters is the first in the Okanagan.

The managers announced that the alley would remain open from 10 a.m. to midnight daily thus allowing an opportunity for everyone to partake in America's popular game. Afternoon and evening leagues will begin in September and as in other cities, will continue through the winter months.

BABY SITTERS

A unique innovation being introduced by the Runnals to Regatta City bowlers is their "baby sitting service."

Said Mr. Runnals, "we hope to have many ladies' leagues organized next fall and many of them will find it rather difficult to arrange for baby sitters, especially when all their regulars will be back in school. We've decided to hire a former teacher to look after this service, which will be situated right here in the alley."

Forced Retirement At 65 Wrong, Says Ex-Professor

TORONTO (CP)—Arbitrary retirement at 65 is wrong, says 94-year-old Dr. George Needler.

"Some men may be ready for retirement then while others may be entering their phase of best production."

To support his contention he offers his own experience. Since retiring as a professor of the University of Toronto at 70, he has had time to indulge his passion for Canadian history and has written two studies on the Riel Rebellion. He now is working on his memoirs.

Translator of German works and author of textbooks on English literature, he says: "I have a kind of considerable wisdom since reaching 65."

He has first-hand knowledge of the Riel Rebellion, having been a corporal with the Queen's Own Rifles in the campaign. With 78 years of service, he is the regiment's oldest surviving member and recently attended its 100th anniversary dinner here.

He drinks little, eats sparingly and has never smoked. But as for his longevity, he says it's a

English Town Links With Ont. Namesake

MILVERTON, England (CP)—This village in south Somerset has opened a fund to strengthen its links with the Ontario community of the same name.

One proposal is that the villagers send to Canada a vestment made locally. This would be appropriate because the Canadian town was named in 1881 on a clergyman's suggestion.

The association between the two Milvertons began last year with the presentation of a cedar-wood casket by the Ontario town to its Somerset counterpart.

WIRES CROSSED

ST. HELENS, England (CP)—Telephone users in this Lancashire town were surprised to hear a symphony concert and a short story. The telephone wires had become crossed with those of a local broadcasting station.

New Zealand Has Good Prospects Of Selling More Meat To Canada

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—New Zealand has good prospects of increasing sales of meat to Canada, in the opinion of J. D. Kerr, who has ended a four-year term as New Zealand assistant trade commissioner in Montreal.

New Zealanders, he says, eat 230 pounds of meat a head annually, compared with 175 pounds eaten by Canadians. The contrast in mutton and lamb, New Zealand's main meat exports, is even greater.

Kerr says that the annual consumption of mutton and lamb in Canada is only 2.7 pounds a year. New Zealanders eat 76 pounds of these meats annually.

With the rate of population increase in Canada, and campaigns to make Canadians more aware of the virtues of lamb, he believes there is scope for a big increase in sales.

Kerr sees little hope of selling dairy produce in Canada while the present price support system allied to import control continues. He thinks the chief prospect for increased trade lies in primary and semi-processed

Lumber Industry Lauds Gov't Move

VANCOUVER (CP)—B.C. Lumber and fishing industries Wednesday lauded a move by the federal government to permit Canadian firms to fix prices on goods exported.

They said the new policy, implemented through an amendment to the Combines Investigation Act, will enable B.C. export goods.

Opening day will also offer "spot prizes" to many of the bowlers. Mr. Runnals explained that at spotted intervals, he will call a score over the intercom and the closest score will win the prize.

The intercom, itself, is another new innovation in Canadian bowling circles. The one installed in the Meridian Alleys allows the bowlers to answer Mr. Runnals' questions, while never leaving their game.

SOOTHING MUSIC

The alley, which will have soothing background music, shoe rentals and various vending machines, will handle only five-pin bowling.

Adding to the beauty of the interior are mahogany plywood panels on the walls and matching counter-floor coverings.

Many times during its construction of the alley had 28 carpenters working at the same time. "These were hectic days," chirped Mr. Runnals.

The couple has spent most of their lives in British Columbia. They have two sons, aged 21 and 22.

Mr. Runnals was the former owner of the Meridian Services Ltd., an engineering and estimating establishment in Vancouver.

ers to meet strong economic competition now being put by Russia.

Spokesmen for leading lumber and pulp and paper companies said it is unlikely an immediate boost in sales will result, but "it opens the way for us to compete as a body, which is particularly necessary when we are competing with Russia."

Geiger counters used in search for radioactive materials give a constant faint record of cosmic rays from outer space.

CANADIAN BRIEFS

FROM FAR AWAY
QUEBEC (CP) — Three students from Australia, and the Mauritius and Somaliland—are same with music, he says. "You coming to Laval University here just don't know until you've tried next fall on Commonwealth I."

COOLING OFF
STE. AGATHE, Que. (CP)—A worthy cause, the opening of a crutch bank for injured skiers, was aided by a mid-summer, starting-off party in this resort town south of Quebec. The snow had been kept on ice since last winter, and the maple syrup was saved from last spring.

POISONED CATTLE
PRESCOTT, Ont. (CP)—Some cattle on Galops Island in the St. Lawrence River near here have been fatally poisoned by licking paint pails, and drinking water contaminated by paint, from an upriver bridge.

FOR THE FUTURE
WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—The corner stone of Whitby's new town hall, laid recently by Ont. Health Minister Dymond, contains a set of 1960 postage stamps, the 1960 town budget, a set of Canadian coins, a Whitby street map and a copy of the town's centennial booklet.

RECEPTION COSTS
TORONTO (CP) — Civic accounts show the City of Toronto spent $31,439 on the two-day visit of the Queen and Prince Philip last year. City council's total bill for other receptions amounted to $25,735.

PERSONAL BEES
LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Gasoline dealer Frank LeFrank had an extra duty to perform the other day besides servicing his customers' cars. He had to remove bees—free of charge—from the cars. They were his bees.

BLAME PIGEONS
CHATHAM, Ont. (CP) — Police were asked to find who was responsible for splashing pigeon eggs over the windshield of Chris Beckett's car. Pigeons were the culprits—the eggs fell from a shaky nest high on a church.

ACQUIRED TASTE
REGINA (CP) — Symphonic music and caviar have a great deal in common, says Dr. Paul

"Only One Way To Speak French—As People Of France Speak It"

PARIS (CP) — Gerard Dagenais, Montreal author, newspaperman and television personality, says "there is only one way to speak French—the way the people of France speak it."

SPECIAL LICENCE
EDMONTON (CP) — Mayor Elmer Roper of Edmonton has been made a member of the Drumheller Dinosaur Club, and he received a certificate dated 20,000,000 B.C. It says: "The above member is authorized through this certificate to hunt and shoot live dinosaurs and other reptiles in this area."

PARACHUTE EXPERT
EDMONTON (AP)—"A lot of common sense" is the key to parachute success, says Sgt. Bob Crebo of the RCAF at Namao near here. A veteran of 19 years in the air force, he has just made his 301st jump. He is a specialist in para-rescue work.

BUILDING SLOWER
VANCOUVER (CP) — Housing starts in Greater Vancouver for the first six months this year were about 50 per cent below the level of the same period last year. Housing officials said starts up to the end of June totalled 2,616, compared with 5,302 at that time last year.

FATAL FROLIC
QUALICUM BEACH, B. C. (CP)—A 1,000-pound sea lion was shot by Mike Gorick, a fishing guide, as it was sunning itself on the deck of a power boat docked here. The big type of seal was destroyed because officials feared it might damage other boats if startled.

65-Year-Old Man Is Embroidery Expert
ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP) — Forty years ago John Wynn took up embroidery in an effort to rehabilitate himself from First World War wounds. Today he wouldn't trade the art for any other hobby. At 65 he relaxes, puts his leg over the rung of a chair, places a tablecloth or pillow case over his knee and embroiders intricate designs. Although he started in 1917, it wasn't until 1955, after a heart attack left him with idle time, that he resumed.

Industries.
 "I have already shipped two boxes of books home," said Mr. Dagenais, who operates a translation bureau in Montreal in addition to contributing articles to Montreal Le Devoir. He also appears on a television program, Bonjour, Madame, usually discussing ways to improve French spoken in the home.

He has become a member of the committee which annually picks the winner of a trophy given to the French - language Swedish merchant marine increased by 53,330 tons to a total of 3,680,471 gross tons in the first half of 1960. With larger vessels being built, however, the total of ships dropped by five to 1,320.

Canadian Students Studying In Israel

TEL AVIV (CP) — Forty-five Canadian university students and professors are spending six weeks in Israel working on cooperative settlements and studying at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. The group includes representatives from all parts of Canada chosen as delegates to the 11th International Seminar of the World University Service. They are spending the first three weeks at the settlements, some helping with harvesting in fields and orchards. The co-operatives, called kibbutzim and moshavim, are unique agricultural establishments in the Western world. They serve as defence fortresses as well as being integral parts of the Israeli agricultural economy. Israeli students will join the group at the university when the seminar studies aspects of its theme: Tradition and Technology in a New Country. Christianity was introduced to Iceland in 981, and legally adopted about 20 years later.

Athlete's Foot Requires A Doctor's Attention

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

The average person, I'm sorry to say, will ask his neighbor, his relatives and his druggist how to treat athlete's foot long before he will seek his doctor's advice.

This very common ailment can be more serious than most of you realize.

DELAY DANGEROUS
If treatment—proper treatment—is postponed for any length of time, the infection can become severe. The least you can expect is pain and discomfort.

Some cases even lead to blood poisoning.

Still, most victims of this ringworm condition simply don't think it is important enough to bother their doctor.

WRONG NOTION
I would like to point out to such persons, right made in that when people stop bothering us, we will be out of business.

There is an old medical saying that a doctor who treats himself has a fool for a patient. What then does this make of a patient who treats himself?

WHEN TO SEEK AID
The time to consult your doctor is when you first notice any cracked or rough skin between the toes. This is the first signal of athlete's foot. When itchy water blisters form and then

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER
(Top Record Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play.)

QUIZ
Partner bids One Diamond, next player passes, neither side vulnerable. What would you now bid with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠A ♠92 ♠KQ876 ♠AJ43
2. ♠A78 ♠KJ9 ♠Q5 ♠K9854
3. ♠A10 ♠AJ7 ♠KJ653 ♠A78
4. ♠AQ86 ♠AQ93 ♠— ♠A9874

1. Two clubs. This is the fairly common case where the strength for a jump raise to three diamonds (forcing to game) is lacking, but where a simple raise to two diamonds would not adequately express the game-going prospects.

Hands that qualify midway between a single and double raise are usually handled by first naming a side suit and later raising partner's suit. Fractional bidding is thus accomplished to show the type of hand that originally was worth a raise to two and a half of partner's suit.

The advantage of this method is that a game contract can be reached when the opener has values beyond a minimum bid and can be avoided if the opener has only a bare minimum.

2. Two notrump. With a hand so well suited for notrump play, there is no good reason to mention the club suit. Ordinarily, a five-card suit is not suppressed during the bidding, but where card suits.

However, no genuine side suit exists in this hand, there being only three-card suits to choose from. So, at the risk of deceiving partner, a side suit bid is manufactured for the overall purpose of alerting partner that big things are on the way. It is better to jump shift in clubs rather than hearts because it is dangerous to make a cuebid in a suit higher ranking than the one intended as the ultimate trump suit.

4. Two clubs. Although this is a promising hand to hold opposite an opening bid, no strong action should be taken at the moment. The possibility of a misfit is apparent, and an orderly presentation of the actual distribution held is initiated by so well suited for notrump play, suit. The intention is to show the spades and hearts later so that they can be read as four-card suits.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
There are some planetary restrictions now—especially where personal relationships are concerned. Avoid strife and bickering; also a tendency toward aggressiveness. In general, keep your opinions to yourself.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
Tomorrow is your birthday. Your horoscope promises an interesting year. The next five months, especially, should see many of your fondest wishes come true—particularly those dealing with job and financial advancement. Don't offset gains, however, by spending unwisely during September.

The first six months of 1961 will be excellent for creative work and business interests, and both May and June will be fine for travel and romance. Some unusual social activities are also indicated there. Domestic influences are under generous influences, and you may look forward to an exceptionally happy home life. Curb emotionalism and anxiety in late March, however.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the qualities to make an excellent broker, banker or executive.

break, leaving the skin raw, there's not much doubt about the cause of the trouble.

The fungi which cause athlete's foot find perfect living conditions in shoes and on your feet. They thrive on perspiration and darkness.

SOME TIPS
It's rather difficult to avoid a case of athlete's foot, no matter how careful you may be. But soap and water.

let me pass along a few tips for whatever they may be worth. First, everyone should have at least two pairs of shoes. This enables you to wear one pair today and another tomorrow, thus giving each pair a chance to dry out.

KELOWNA DAILY COURIER, FRI., JULY 29, 1960 PAGE 11

Wash your feet frequently and be sure to dry between the toes. Wear clogs or paper sandals when using shower or locker rooms. And don't let anybody else wear any of your foot gear.

Answer: Some varicose veins can be handled by injections. Others require surgical treatment, such as tying or removal.

Canadian-Born Officer "Saved" Rich Katanga Province For Belgium

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — If it hadn't been for a Canadian-born officer, Katanga, the rich province which has withdrawn from the new Congo republic, might have been British instead of Belgian.

Evidence of the part played in the destiny of Katanga by Capt. William Grant Stairs, a native of Halifax and graduate of Royal Military College here in 1932, has been uncovered by Capt. Carmen Darling, RMC public relations officer.

From 1887 to 1890, on leave of absence from the British army, Capt. Stairs served on the staff of the British-sponsored expedition led by H.M. Stanley which had been sent to the relief of Emin Pasha, Governor of Equatorial Africa, who was cut off by enemies in the Upper Nile region.

Stanley, who in 1871 had made his famous trip to find Dr. Livingstone, had some dealings with Belgian interests. These were later carried on by Capt. Stairs. At the time, King Leopold II of Belgium was trying to broaden the influence of his Congo Free State. Spurred by reports that Cecil Rhodes was sending a prospecting mission to mineral-rich Katanga from the south, Leopold sent out four Belgian expeditions from 1889 to 1891.

Capt. Stairs, then working for a Belgian corporation in which British funds were invested, was the leader of one of the expeditions. Katanga was ruled by a native chief, M'Siri, who had little use for the whites but decided to cast his lot with the British and "teach the Belgians a lesson."

A letter was sent to Alfred (later Sir Alfred) Sharpe asking him to go to take possession of Katanga in the name of British rule. The runner carrying the letter was intercepted by Capt. Stairs. He read it and put it in his pocket.

M'Siri was shot dead by a Belgian officer after he brandished a gun during a heated interview. There was general relief among the people that M'Siri had been removed and it was at this time that the Congo Free State flag was hoisted over the capital.

On the west wall of the entrance to the RMC administration building is a brass memorial tablet which says: "William Grant Stairs, Captain, Welch Regiment, Born at Halifax, N.S., July 1863. Served on the staff of the Emin Pasha relief expedition, 1887, under the leadership of H.M. Stanley and exhibited great courage and devotion to duty. Died of fever, June 9, 1892, at Chinde on the Zambezi, whilst in command of the Katanga expedition sent out by the King of the Belgians."

Alaska Has Room Aplenty For Settlers

ANCHORAGE (Reuters) — If you feel a bit crowded in your present town, you might consider moving to Alaska.

Although the U.S. census of 1960 shows that Alaska's population soared by 74 per cent during the last decade, there is still space to spare and plenty of room for newcomers.

Subject to final revision, the count reveals that 223,888 persons now live in a state whose 586,400-square-mile area is larger than Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Iceland combined.

Each Alaskan could be given a 2 1/2-square-mile piece of land. Ten years ago, the population totalled 128,643. About one-third were from the aborigine stock of Indians, Eskimos and Aleuts.

The 1960 preliminary returns show that 82,560 people live in the Anchorage district. Fairbanks ranks second, with 42,746.

There are noticeable thin spots in the geographic distribution of people. At Barrow, 1,141 people live at the Top of the World. The Aleutian Islands chain has a population of 5,000.

A flashback to 1880 shows that only 33,426 people then occupied the sparsely-settled territory. Of these 430 were white. For a decade the number declined, but the 1898 stampede brought 30,000 new people to the Alaskan gold fields.

From a vital statistics standpoint, Alaska appears to be a healthy state. In 1959, births outnumbered deaths six to one. During the year there were 1,132 deaths and 6,693 births.

IONA, Scotland (CP) — Residents of this community are holding the torch during the Summer Olympic Games, stands in this small British Columbia town weeping and lamenting lest where many of the events will be held. QUIET DAYS
MARYPORT, England (CP) — This Cumberland port, active for two centuries, now has become redundant. At its peak in 1900 the port's annual trade was more than 1,000,000 tons, but since a harbor was built at nearby Workington in 1928 all the iron ore and coal trade has been diverted.

Morale Of Canadian Troops In Germany At New High

SOEST, Germany (CP) — The morale of Canadian soldiers in all this, says Pte. Adrian Sillery, Germany, say army officials, has never been higher.

Things have come a long way for the troops since the first group of Canadians moved into a temporary camp in a mud-splattered suburb of Hannover nine years ago. Now, in the lush green valleys of Germany's Westphalia state, they are living in relative luxury.

The 5,500 members of the 4th Canadian infantry brigade group, and their 9,000 dependants, have the best of both worlds. About two-thirds of the married personnel live in modern Canadian-style apartments, with the latest conveniences, and the others choose their German homes in ancient and picturesque villages that have few equals in north-western Europe.

They can shop at Canadian or German stores, they can attend Canadian or German movies, they can have lavish nights out in Canadian or German entertainment spots.

AN ENTHUSIAST

"Anyone who doesn't like it," says Pte. Richard Duncombe of Chatham, Ont., "is crazy. If I could serve all my time over here, I'd sign up in the army for 25 years."

In the last few years, the Canadian bases have assumed a high degree of permanency and perfection that was naturally missing during the growing stages. Where earlier soldiers had to clear away rubble and cobblestones that cluttered campsites, present-day troops can lounge — in off-duty hours — on carpeted lawns.

A few years ago vacationing soldiers had to use the hit-or-miss procedure in finding good places to stay. Nowadays there is a complete travel service, equipped in line with complaints and recommendations gathered over the years.

During the first few years, no wives or children were taken to Germany. Now they all come.

Things such as movie theatres, bowling alleys, skating rinks and recreation clubs have been established. So have skiing clubs, rifle clubs and social clubs.

"But there is some trouble with all this," says Pte. Adrian Sillery of Winnipeg. "You need a car to get around to everything—in fact, to take advantage of anything over here you must have either a car or a wife."

He hasn't either, "and I don't like it much."

Pte. Reg Butt of Cornwall, Ont., hasn't a wife either, but he does drive a car. "And being in Germany is No. 1. Yes, sir, No. 1."

Enjoying fairly good relations with the local German population, the soldiers freely enter into the spirit of the frequent festivals that add color to the countryside. The killed troops of the Royal Highland Regiment of Canada have been seen swirling in local street dances — often accompanied by girls dressed in slacks.

Local press photographers never seem to get tired of this phenomenon.

And when it comes to girls — always an important factor in morale — Germany is apparently top-notch spot.

BETTER CITIZENS

"I won't tell you my name because I've got a girl friend back home," says a Toronto trooper, "but I don't mind saying that I've never had so many dates in my life."

"Most of them are real dolls, too. The soldiers fit these extra-curricular activities around a strenuous work schedule that keeps them fighting fit. They are often away from their campsites for weeks at a time, training in the rugged forest-land countryside, or camping under battle conditions in the hills. They never sit around doing nothing."

The brigade's commander, Brig. D. C. Cameron of Alex, Ontario, says he is "very happy" with the morale, and the behavior, of his men in Germany.

"I think it has always been pretty good."

He says that after a three-year tour of duty in Germany he thinks most of the soldiers—their average age is 22—return home "to become much better citizens of Canada."

Three Famous Canadian Indians Live In New Book By Descendant

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ethel Brant Monture, an Indian writing about Indians, has rendered her countrymen a service with Canadian Portraits (Clarke Irwin). A trio of biographies of famous Canadian Indians.

In composite these three short pieces, perhaps better labelled sketches than portraits, unfold the graphic story of the conflict between the onrushing, land-devouring white man and the North American Indian, the sullen corrosion of Indian culture and finally its rebirth in the form of an intelligent and enterprising Indian of the late 19th century.

Individually, the stories outline the lives and indicate a little of the personalities of Joseph Brant, Crowfoot and Peter Martin. Brant, a Mohawk chief, was a great-granddaughter of Joseph Brant, Mrs. Monture has painted straightforward vignettes sometimes bordering on the style of anthropological treatises.

MOHAWK CHIEF

Joseph Brant, a Mohawk chief, was loved and respected by his own people and at the same time became "one of the first Indians to come to terms with the European world as transplanted to North America and yet maintain his integrity as an Indian."

In the 1780s he settled his people, who left New York State during the American revolution, on land granted near what is now Brantford, Ont. The area is called the Six Nations Reserve.

Crowfoot, born in Western Canada in 1821, son of a chief of the Blackfoot tribe, signed the historic treaty that ceded all the Blackfoot's prairie lands to the Canadian government.

Peter Martin, born in 1841 into the Mohawk tribe of the Six Nations in the Grand Valley region of west-central Ontario, graduated from the University of Toronto in medicine. But though he was probably the first Indian in Canada to become a doctor, he is perhaps better remembered for his work in establishing and nurturing the Independent Order of Foresters.

Canadian Portraits lacks detail about the personal life, feelings and faults of these fascinating Canadians but it nevertheless deserves to be read.

A new university publishing house made its debut in Canada July 1 with the establishment of the McGill University Press. It joins the University of Toronto Press in the select field. Robin Farr, until recently associated with the Copp Clark Publishing Company, was named the first director of the Montreal publishing house.

GREEN GABLES
Mark Twain once described Anne Shirley, heroine of Anne of Green Gables, as "the dearest and most lovable child in fiction since the immortal Alice."

But while many shared this affection, the author, Lucy Maud Montgomery, apparently wasn't one of them.

Her feelings on the subject are reflected in The Green Gables Letters (Ryerson), a collection of letters written by the Prince Edward Island-born author and edited by Wilfred Eggleston.

NOT PERFECT

PORTSMOUTH, England (CP) — A new £400,000 naval barracks here has television, bars, and cabins with hot and cold water for every man. But new tenants complain the beds are at least 15 years old and rusty.

OLYMPIC TORCH STATUE IN PLACE

This 14-foot statue, which will hold the torch during the Summer Olympic Games, stands in place outside the Sports Palace on the outskirts of Rome, where many of the events will be held. The bronze figure, work of Italian sculptor Emilio Greco, has been the object of criticism because of its shoe-string brasserie and thin band around the hips.

Torturous Fraser Canyon Road Is Thing Of Past

BOSTON BAR, B.C. (CP) — The story is told of a man found dead in this small British Columbia town weeping and lamenting lest he should have to spend the rest of his life here.

"That road!" he is said to have wailed. "I won't drive another inch down that road. I'll stay in Boston Bar until I die."

Anyone who has ever driven the Fraser Canyon section of the Trans-Canada Highway will understand the man's consternation.

The road, with its narrow, twisting, cliff-hanging route, its white-faced, terror-stricken travellers, is nearly a thing of the past, however.

At an estimated cost of $40,000,000, spread over nearly a decade, a new highway has been built by an army of men facing one of the toughest construction jobs on the continent—quarrying a road out of the walls of the Fraser Canyon.

NEW BRIDGE
There are still many rough spots in the 30-mile stretch between Hope and Boston Bar, 80 miles northwest of Vancouver, but it is, relatively speaking, a super-highway compared with its condition 10 years ago.

A new bridge is being built across the canyon to replace the present suspension span at Alexander. When this $4,000,000 bridge is finished, it is likely the present one will be demolished.

At China Bar, between Hell's Gate and Boston Bar, a new tunnel is being driven and an old one blasted out. A second tunnel at that point will be abandoned, and farther up the road another tunnel is being bored.

This 1.18 miles is the most expensive bit of road work on the basis of mileage ever tackled in B.C.—$2,242,723.

Although many will be glad to see the old road gone, others will deplore the loss of beauty spots created by earth removers, pneumatic drills and blasting powder.

OLD CHURCHES

LONDON (CP) — Unwanted churches in York and Norwich could be used for the new universities proposed for these cities, the Marquess of Anglesey told the Friends of Friendless Churches at their annual meeting here.

FAMOUS ZOO

The great Whipsnade Zoo near London, England, where many animals are kept in natural surroundings, opened in 1931.

Lost Your Appendix? You May Wish You Had It Again

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lost ever-present germs can invade your appendix?

The time may come when you'll wish you had it back, research at the California Institute of Technology indicates.

The appendix, long considered a useless organ, may play an important role in the body's defence against infections, says immunologist Dieter Sussdorf.

It may also help protect these body defences from damage by radiation such as x-rays or the rays given off in a nuclear explosion.

Dr. Sussdorf said the appendix has been found to be rich in lymphoid cells that are capable of producing disease-fighting antibodies.

(the body uncontrolled and the victim dies of infection. Dr. Sussdorf's research with rabbits, sponsored by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, shows that it is not necessary to shield the whole body from radiation to save the defence mechanism. Shielding only certain organs, such as the spleen and appendix, can do it.

Shielding only the spleen, another lymphoid-rich organ just below the stomach, helped somewhat—but shielding the appendix alone gave much greater protection.

Dr. Sussdorf concluded that the lymphoid cells in the shielded appendix migrated through the blood stream to the spleen and antum for making antibodies is a there major cause of radiation deaths, damaged spleen with fresh anti-
